Reflections on the Sunday readings: Most Holy Trinity

Today's Gospel is straightforward. Christ came to life, that is, in the life of God. "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, so that everyone...may have eternal life." This is a core truth of our faith that we will never fully understand in this world. Even so, by believing in Jesus, we already share in divine life. Of course, we rarely perceive that. It is not part of our direct experience.

Yet this is the wonderful truth of our faith that could revolutionize our world. Christianity is not primarily about escaping everlasting punishment. It is not a religion of fear but of life and love.

Too often, we bear false witness to the truth about divine life. When the Church becomes entangled with worldly powers, it also becomes dominated by the quest for wealth, power and comfort. When as individuals we seek power, riches and autonomy for ourselves, our faith is compromised. The world sees our hypocrisy and turns away.

A better way exists. It is to "believe" in Christ—to live as Jesus lived. That way is to live on the margins, to live simply and with humility, and to draw close to the poor and the afflicted. That is the path of eternal life.

The thrilling Biblical story of Joseph is told in this high quality 3-D animated feature film for children ages 5 and up. Young Joseph is a dreamer, indulged by his father and resented by his older brothers who soon sell him into slavery without their father's knowledge. Now captive in Egypt, Joseph experiences humiliation, hardship and imprisonment. But his faith and his gift for interpreting dreams soon lead him to an exalted position in the kingdom. When his brothers come calling for help, Joseph responds in a surprising way. The program sets Joseph's story in the context of God's plan for Israel and the promised coming of the Messiah. It powerfully demonstrates God's sovereign hand in all things.

Were you as amazed as I was when you heard Roe v. Wade was overturned? This is huge. A lot of people are upset about that, and they're pretty open about it. But a lot of other people are hurting because of abortion, and they're silently searching for healing. Abortion causes trauma, even though you rarely hear that talked about. Countless women who've had an abortion deeply regret it. And they need our help. So even if you don't personally know someone who's had an abortion, what can we do to foster hope and healing around this sensitive topic? That's what we're talking about today.
