Reflections on the Sunday readings: Body and Blood of Christ

“Food for the body and soul” is the tagline for my ministry on a university campus. We serve a lot of free meals in a hospitable setting and the campus food bank is in our building. It is my hope that when more demanding situations arise, students and others on campus will remember the Chaplaincy Centre as a place of comfort and consolation. Our ministry tagline may not be original, but it is a sequel to the first invitation to food for body and soul found in the Gospel of John.

Today’s Gospel offers the source of that food and it is Jesus. Earlier in John’s Gospel, some disciples complain; in today’s text, they dispute among themselves, asking how this can be.

What is meant to unite us can cause division, even today. How do I approach the table? Who else comes to the table with me? When disputes arise, we must not lose sight of the gift and the Giver. Jesus offers us not only living bread but eternal life.

St. Paul invites us to remember that, though many, we are one. Very truly, we are reminded, may we be grateful. Today, may I leave my questions and my disputes at the door so that I—so that we—may live forever.

The thrilling Biblical story of Joseph is told in this high quality 3-D animated feature film for children ages 5 and up. Young Joseph is a dreamer, indulged by his father and resented by his older brothers who soon sell him into slavery without their father's knowledge. Now captive in Egypt, Joseph experiences humiliation, hardship and imprisonment. But his faith and his gift for interpreting dreams soon lead him to an exalted position in the kingdom. When his brothers come calling for help, Joseph responds in a surprising way. The program sets Joseph's story in the context of God's plan for Israel and the promised coming of the Messiah. It powerfully demonstrates God's sovereign hand in all things.

Were you as amazed as I was when you heard Roe v. Wade was overturned? This is huge. A lot of people are upset about that, and they're pretty open about it. But a lot of other people are hurting because of abortion, and they're silently searching for healing. Abortion causes trauma, even though you rarely hear that talked about. Countless women who've had an abortion deeply regret it. And they need our help. So even if you don't personally know someone who's had an abortion, what can we do to foster hope and healing around this sensitive topic? That's what we're talking about today.
