Reflections on the Readings: 23rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Recently my young family went on a trip without me. It was the first time I'd ever been substantially away from my youngest child. As my crew exuberantly burst through the front door upon their return, I was overcome by the reality of being with them. To be present in person contained a goodness and a fullness of life that was, truthfully, a bit staggering, especially after many days apart.

Anyone reunited with others after an absence on account of work, school or pandemic lockdowns can undoubtedly relate to what it means to be physically with someone—not on the phone or through various technologies—but really, tangibly present. It enables a unique restful confidence in their love, a delight in their person, a peace and unmistakable joy at being together. Such presence is priceless.

As Jesus assures in today's Gospel, when we gather with others in his name, he is there.

Really there. Like my kids at their homecoming, Jesus is palpably present—and with no less exuberance. He's teeming with life and blessings. We can rejoice in his person, relax in his nearness, trust in his unfathomable love.

Gathered together in Jesus' name this day, let us be transformed, revitalized, healed and restored by his promise, contained in the closing words from today's Gospel, that he will be there among us.

Catholic Commentary on The Chosen aims to help Catholics actively engage with the immensely popular TV series depicting the life of Christ. Now available into Season Three.

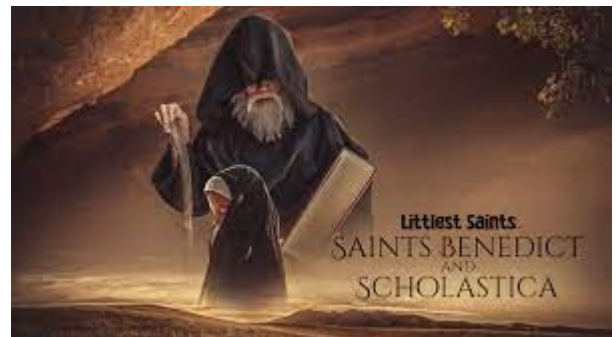

Eleven young men from the United States walk 1,000 kilometers on their Way of St. James pilgrimage. They are looking for answers, not beautiful scenery: How do you deal with pain and suffering? Do the weak quit or do they find meaning on the Camino? How much baggage is enough or too much?

Francis was a person who, like us, searched for purpose and meaning and was oftentimes left empty. It wasn't until he encountered Jesus Christ that his darkness and confusion were replaced with light and peace. When the world saw him as a fool, he stood as a sign of contradiction. Ultimately, this film is about conversion: his and ours.

The Augustine Institute has adapted its award-winning series The Search and modified it for teens. The Search is an acclaimed evangelization series hosted by speaker and author Chris Stefanick. This adaptation for middle and high school students is called The Search Begins, a new series inviting teens to consider the deepest questions of the human heart and explore the meaning and purpose of life.

A pair of holy twins, a cave, and a group of naughty monks... this is the story of Saint Benedict and Saint Scholastica.

Lukas invites all his friends to a great adventure at the dark reef. As soon as they arrive, they are afraid to help and play with some old forgotten friends so Lukas and Noah share with them the story of St. Teresa of Calcutta and how she asked God for a big heart so She could love everybody. The story changes their lives and helps them to come back to the reef and have a great day with acts of love.
