Reflection on Sunday Readings: 27th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today's Gospel is about the tenants of a vineyard refusing to give the harvest owed to the landlord. I am one of those tenants. Now, it's tempting to say, "that isn't me," but the deeper reflection is to find the ways it is saying something about how I respond to God's gifts in my life.

Can I see myself being given all that I have, to tend and grow and offer back to God? These gifts—my family, my work, my talents, my possessions—are in my care, not for myself but to be offered back as a gift. I owe my deep gratitude and the fruits of all my labour back to God "the landowner" and my ever generous parent. But I get caught up in my own selfishness and pride. In what ways do I feel entitled to all that I possess? How much do I consider the sharing of these things as giving from "my gifts"?

In this parable, Jesus is the son sent and rejected. I am being asked this day to further set aside my focus on self interest and turn my focus to Jesus. I know the end of the story—it is generosity and love, Jesus, even after being rejected and set aside, reconciles all of humanity to God. In what ways can I welcome Jesus today?

Catholic Commentary on The Chosen aims to help Catholics actively engage with the immensely popular TV series depicting the life of Christ. Now available into Season Three.

Peter and Paul are excited to be in the finals of the reef baseball championship. They are nervous about their big moment, but Lukas teaches our friends how to speak to God in prayer following the example of Saint Therese of the Child Jesus.

Which flower in Jesus's garden is the best? The most beautiful? St. Therese gives us her "little" answer to these questions.

It was the age of knights and kings, when honor belonged to the heroes and glory was found in the battle field. There lived a brave young man named Francis, whose wish was to become a mighty warrior and conquer a magnificent castle. One day Francis felt a calling to greater glory. God had vested upon him a very special mission that would require a supreme act of courage. For the love of God, his King, Francis gave up everything that he had and joyfully embarked upon the most exciting and unexpected adventure.

Francis was a person who, like us, searched for purpose and meaning and was oftentimes left empty. It wasn't until he encountered Jesus Christ that his darkness and confusion were replaced with light and peace. When the world saw him as a fool, he stood as a sign of contradiction. Ultimately, this film is about conversion: his and ours.
